In his speech His Majesty says the Government had adhered on the Turko-Greek question, with a view to the best interests of Greece. His Majesty also wells upon the necessity for a regulation of he finances of the Government, in order that Greece may fulfil her obligations and develope. ier material strength and national resources.

The inhabitants of Bordeaux were greatly astonished one morning lately, to see a colored flag highly scanted Celestials. This place, in fact Michel, said to be a piece of a curtain, on which is a totally different from any port in China, was drawn a heart pieced by an arrow, and underneath were the words, "Liberte, Paix." The spire is about 375 feet in height; and extremely difficult of ascent. What could have induced any person to undertake such a perilous feat at night remains a mystery.

With regard to the present inactivity there are various explanations current, but perhaps one of the most substantial causes is to be found in the continued scarcity of money among the Chinese, brought about to a great extent by the long delayer opening of the markets by the foreigners, for the two great articles of export. Apart from this fact. however, the only true explanation of the very limited demand for manufactured goods could only be given by a more thorough knowledge of the in-Hongkong, 2nd July, 1869. terior of China, its wants and its resources than is at present known to the foreigner.
